Senator Owens, May Have to Face the Recall

Petitions Being Prepared by State Federation of Labor.

Workingmen Displeased With the State Senator's Record at Sacramento.

It has been rumored for some time on the streets and in labor circles in Marin and Contra Costa that petitions would soon be in circulation calling an election for the recall of Senator J. C. Owens. This rumor was confirmed by the recent action of the State Federation of Labor who are preparing the petitions, the executive committee deciding to begin action at once.

Organized labor claim that Mr. Owens owes his election to labor; that he was pledged to their support, and that he broke faith with them by voting against the majority of measures introduced in the late legislature in the interest of labor, prominent among which was the anti injunction bill which lost out in the senate by four votes.

A candidate to run against the present incumbent has not been announced, although several strong men from both counties are mentioned for honors.

Little Hints.

An ordinance should be enacted not to haul more than a limited time on streets without rolling, until the new street settles.

Inspectors of streets should not be long absent from their jobs, as something may be done without the inspector's knowledge.

First Payment of Interest.

City Auditor McVittie honored coupons to the amount of $33,550 Tuesday, this being a portion of the first installment of interest due on the $300,000 improvement bonds voted for 1913. The first installment of interest totals $7500.

The auditor's report when published will contain a detailed statement of moneys expended in preliminary harbor work, many taxpayers being interested in the harbor improvement and the expense connected with the project.

New Toys For Cops.

Chief of Police Arnold has made arrangements to have the entire force handsomely uniformed, a first-class tailor being employed to fit and make the garments. The appearance of Richmond's policemen will then compare favorably with the finest of Fifth avenue, N. Y.

Postmaster to Try Out Auto.

Postmaster Sam F. Jenkins is arranging his itinerary for a auto trip and will try out his new machine on some of the roads in the northern part of the state. Mrs. Jenkins and daughter, Merle, will accompany Mr. Jenkins, also Miss Liberty Matson.

Soft and Sticky.

The asphaltum between and adjoining the Macdonald avenue car tracks is "on the run" again, the warm weather causing the pitch to adhere closely to shoe soles. Richmond housewives have remonstrated in vain. Carpets, rugs and polished floors suffering from the tar. The traction company may be contemplating double tracks, in which event they may put down the bitumen so as to minimize the number of "tarheels" on warm days.

War Veterans.

Forty thousand old veterans of the war between the North and South are encamped on the historic battlefield of Gettysburg, the scene of the greatest battle of civil war. Co. Treasurer Appointed by Supervisors

J. Rio Baker of Antioch Receives Majority of Votes.

Decision Reached After Deadlock
Was Broken by Withdrawal of James F. Hoey.

Special to The Richmond Terminal.

MARTINEZ, Cal., July 4.—

General satisfaction prevails over the selection of J. Rio Baker of Antioch as county treasurer to succeed the late L. N. Buttner. The appointment of the Antioch postmaster to the office of county treasurer was made after a deadlock lasting the greater portion of Monday, and was finally broken by the withdrawal of Mr. Hoey from the contest.

The supervisors were all present except W. H. McBryde, who is absent in the east.

The many friends of Mrs. Hilton are pleased to know that this good woman, who is the wife of the well known liquor merchant, owner of the Kentucky bar, has almost fully recovered. The Fred Hiltons speak in the highest terms of Abbott Hospital, the painstaking care of the medical internes and the nurses, and they feel as though recovery would not have occurred anywhere else.

Weed Cutting.

A weed cutting campaign is on in Richmond, and many property owners have protected their homes and outbuildings by cutting weeds or in burning them off of vacant lots. Weeds greatly increase the fire risk, and every year in celebrating with fire works on the Fourth many disastrous conflagrations have occurred. This year the people have combined against the weed nuisance and the city will soon present a neat appearance.

City Attorney Hall advised that the proposed gas tank ordinance was too restricting and confining, and that in his opinion the district was so small that the validity of the ordinance was seriously questioned.

The gas company's attorneys from Oakland were in attendance, representing the interests of the company. After some discussion it was decided to amend the ordinance so that gas tanks must be at least 100 feet away from existing buildings. The date for final hearing was set for Monday, July 14.

Spanish War Veterans at Grand Canyon Park—Albany
Celebrates.

The Fourth was quietly celebrated in Richmond, noise producing and dangerous fireworks being entirely dispensed with, the people having endorsed the safe and sane way in the observance of Uncle Sam's greatest holiday. No accidents of a serious nature were reported, where in former years there were scores of accidents and fatalities to chronicle. Many Richmond folk visited out of town friends and relatives, traveling via automobiles or taking advantage of the cheap railroad fares. The day was a quiet one throughout the bay district. The fireworks at Lake Merritt, Oakland, attracted hundreds from Richmond.

The Spanish War Veterans entertained at Grand Canyon Park and gave a fine program. The park was crowded with pleasure seekers, and games, dancing and other amusements were the order.

Albany's carnival will continue Saturday. The citizens of that thriving suburban town have made a record for putting on good attractions.

First Electric Train.

The Oakland & Antioch railroad operated its first electric train over their line from Sacramento to Bay Point, a distance of 53 miles, Wednesday. The train contained the officials and promoters of the road. Among the engineering difficulties that the road had to contend with was the 2000 foot trestle across the Yolo basin, a concrete trestle near McAvoy and the building of a high grade to cross the big lake on the property of the Solano Irrigated Farms Co. The officials of the road announced that the trains would soon be running regularly between Oakland and Sacramento.

A Freak Kitten.

William F. Logan while at Livermore one day this week secured a feline freak that is an attraction. The attraction is a freak kitten, six weeks old, a beautiful and playful little fellow, minus both fore legs. The kitten is six weeks old today, is normally developed and resembles any other ordinary cat, with the exception that a miff or downy fur adorns its anatomy where its front appendages should be. In playing and standing it resembles the attitude and position of a kangaroo. Mr. Logan has made a valuable find, and no doubt will receive some flattering offers for this curious little freak.

AGREE ON MERGER DISSOLUTION

President and Attorney General Approve Latest Proposal

Court to Be Asked for Time in Which to File Objections if Any Should Develop

Washington—Attorney General McReynolds and representatives of the Union Pacific, it is learned, have reached an agreement for the dissolution of the Harriman merger. The principles of the plan are in harmony with the views of President Wilson and he is expected to approve. It will be submitted to the judges of the Eighth Circuit United States court at St. Paul.

The plan will go to the court with the government's approval, qualified only by a request that the judges give a limited time before entering a final decree during which the government may possibly make objections, which cannot now be foreseen. Attorney General McReynolds does not expect to go to St. Paul, but will send G. Carroll Todd, special assistant, who has been associated in the negotiations.

Attorney General McReynolds said he was not ready to discuss the situation or details. It is understood, however, that the plan will provide for exchanging $38,000,000 of Southern Pacific stock held by the Union Pacific for the Pennsylvania's interest in Baltimore and Ohio, the sale of the remaining $88,000,000 of Southern Pacific through the medium of a trust company under such safeguards as will end control of the Southern Pacific by either the Union Pacific or its shareholders.

Officials declared that President Wilson and Attorney General McReynolds had been in perfect accord all along to such an agreement for the dissolution, provided a plan could be evolved that would meet the demands of the Sherman law. It was declared that while there never had been any tendency to place obstacles in the way of an agreement, the administration had insisted on an "adequate dissolution." The plan evolved, it is believed will accomplish it, but the government takes the precaution of asking for a limited time within which to make objections, so that in case public discussion of the proposition and further study by officials shows any weaknesses, the hands of the administration will not be tied.

As the plan of dissolution does not provide for the separation of the Southern and Central Pacific, officials of the department of justice reiterated that Attorney General McReynolds later on would bring a civil anti-trust suit under the Sherman law to accomplish that result.

Court Formally Ends Harriman Merger

St. Paul, Minn., June 30.—Federal Judges Walter H. Sanborn, William T. Hook and Walter L. Smith, sitting as the district court of the United States for the district of Utah, late today approved the plans agreed upon by Attorney General McReynolds and attorneys for the Union Pacific railroad, and the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific merger, practically came to an end.

Louis C. Krauthoff of New York city, was named as a commissioner of the court to see to it that the letter and spirit of the plan is carried out. The court also directed him to report to it from time to time.

Three years is given the Union Pacific to complete the sale of its Southern Pacific stock.

Wood Pulp and Paper to Be Admitted Free

Washington—The United States will give up $3,000,000 to European importers of wood pulp and paper as a result of the treasury department's decision not to appeal to the supreme court from the recent decision of the customs court that all countries having "favored nation" treaties with the United States were entitled to free wood pulp and paper because that privilege was granted to Canada. The importations were made from France, Germany, Norway, Sweden, Denmark and other European countries.

ALWAYS OUT TO WIN WHOEVER IS BOSS

Jim Sheppard, Former Cub Star, Now With St. Louis.

"Certain parties," who would no doubt delight to see things go badly for Manager Miller Huggins of the Cards, have circulated stories that Sheppard is held as a club over Huggins' head, being secured and kept on the team with the idea of being made Huggins' successor at the least sign of the Cards breaking. There are two things that show there is nothing in this sort of talk, says the Sporting News. First the showing of the Cards under Huggins; second the whole-hearted way that Sheppard is giving his services to Huggins and the good feeling that exists between the two. Sheppard is out to win for Huggins—and the Cardinals.

This fellow James, who is pitching for the Boston Braves, seems to have both curves and stamina.

"Tilly" Shafer, the Giants' shortstop, has been holding in sensational style and battling like a fiend.

Outfielders seem to be the best batters in the American league. Among the 25-300 hitters, 15 of them are outfielders.

Bridge whist has taken the place formerly held by poker as a diversion for big leaguers while riding from town to town.

The two Hills, Klein in the National and Evans in the American leagues, are said to be the umpires most respected by ball players.

Frye's pitching enabled Harvard to shut out Syracuse 3 to 0 at Cambridge. The Harvard slabsman allowed only one hit and did not pass a man.

Frank Laporte of the Senators continues to show unexpected form at third base, making plays which would do credit to most any third baseman.

Christy Mathewson and a rushing style of play seem to be all the Giants have this season. The New York aggregation has not added any strength.

Olaf Henriksen, the little outfielder of the Boston Red Sox, is justifying the faith Manager Stahl has had in him. He is batting right up there with the best of them.

A version of Casey up to date has been printed in Boston, which winds up: "—And somewhere men are laughing. And somewhere children play. But there is no joy in Boston—Walter Johnson works today!"

Manager Griffith thinks that George McBride is the best shortstop of them all. "You can have your Wagners, Weavers and the pick of them all," said the Old Fox, "but for mine I will always stick to the man we have."

Wrecking crews are the latest rage. Nearly every club outside Greater New York has a spot in its batting order where two or three sluggers come in a bunch, and said bunch has accounted for more than its share of the team's victories.

Important Decision. Wishing one day to test a little fellow's bravery, I said: "What would you do, Jimmy, if Casey called you a liar?" After thinking a moment or two the little fellow replied: "Which Casey, the big one or the little one?"

To Pass the Time. Patron (to very slow waiter)—Bring me a steak, please. And you might just send me a post card every now and then while you're away, letting me know how it is getting on.

Scorers in the Western league have cut Pitcher McConaughey's name to McConny.

Eddie Cicotte has progressed in a year from a losing pitcher to the leading slabsman of the Chicago White Sox.

Joseph Pfeiffer of the Pittsburgh "Eagle" has been appointed official scorer for that city by President James H. O'Rourke of the Eastern association.

The Southern Michigan league has adopted President Johnson's idea for the American league umpires and will give prizes to the umpires who show records of the shortest game.

Goulait, the Toronto club's new right-hand twirler, is a little fellow, not as tall as Dick Rudolph, but stockily built. He pronounces his name "Goolay."

Barney Schreiber appears to be a pitcher who believes in letting the fielders work. In a recent game he pitched 17 fly balls were garnered by the outfielders on the Denver team.

Manager Joe Kelly of the Toronto team, according to New York critics, has secured a fine young ball player in Joe Schultz, recently with the Braves. Schultz is a fine hitter, a fast, clever fielder, and lacking only experience to be major league caliber.

Yale nosed out Princeton by the score of 60 to 56 in their annual track meet.

Vernon McKinley is to be kept on the coast and will be missed from the free-for-all events.

Geers will have the California sensation, San Felipe, 2:09, that won every start last year.

It is thought that with a year's rest Joe Bowers will be all right for the grand circuit this year.

Barongale is being mated with a number of mares in Kentucky and will have a grand chance to distinguish himself.

Take Care of the First Teeth. If you have the health and beauty of your child at heart, pay particular attention to the teeth. Decayed and aching teeth worry the child, making it nervous and disagreeable. The germs harbored in decayed teeth are responsible for many diseases. Have the first teeth well taken care of to insure a healthy, regular second set.

RICHES IN COMMON

Earth's Beauties for All Who Can Enjoy Them.

Title Deeds Not an Absolute Requirement When One Can Put Away Envy That Is Foolish and Unworthy.

The habit of feeling rich because you have developed the faculty of extracting wealth from everything you touch is riches, indeed. Why should we not feel rich in all that our eyes can carry away, no matter if others happen to have the title deed?

Did you ever stop to think how small a part of the community really belongs to the individual? The streets, the roads, are free; the parks are yours; the public libraries are as much yours as the rich man's; the schools are yours; the rivers, the brooks, the mountains, the sunsets, the marvelous mysteries and beauties of the heavens are yours.

They All Say It
Once upon a time there was a fellow and a girl. The fellow came calling. He meant business. After a while the friends of the girl began to josh her about him, asking her when it was going to be, and all that.

TEXAS TO HAVE HIGHEST MONUMENT

ALAMO MEMORIAL

THE state of Texas is about to honor the memory of the men who defended the famous Alamo. A monument, the tallest in the world, 802 feet in height, will be erected on the plaza in San Antonio not far from the Alamo itself.

Star of Texas in Dome
The ceiling of the lobby will be 50 feet high, an opening in the center, eight feet across, forming its sunburst, and this opening is to be carried up through each succeeding story until it reaches a height of 700 feet. Here will be set into the ceiling, beautifully lighted by electricity, the Lone Star of Texas.

The space for 150 feet beneath the star will have no opening from without to admit the light, so this star will be almost as brilliant in the daytime as at night.

The elevators in the monument, four in all, will be located between the massive columns as far up as these extend, which will be to a height of 120 feet from the ground, and above that in the shaft, in which one will be placed in each corner and extending to the base of the dome. These elevators will have large carrying capacity, which will be necessary to accommodate the immense crowds that will visit the monument.

The rooms apportioned to the different counties of Texas, 275 and 300 (for some will have to be provided for new counties that will be created in the years to come), will be located within the shaft of the monument above the four floors, in which will be placed the auditorium, museum, art gallery and chambers for patriotic organizations.

Base to Be of Solid Granite
The base of the monument will be of solid granite, rising to a height of 50 feet. On this base will be placed at each corner of the monument and arranged around the shaft huge pillars, each eight feet in diameter and 70 feet high, all of solid Texas granite. These pillars will be surmounted by heroic size statues of Travis, Crockett, Bowie and Bonham, the four great leaders who died in the Alamo with the men in their commands who had followed them devotedly in the early days of the campaign for liberty and who did not hesitate to follow them even to death.

Above these statues will be placed the six flags that have waved at different times over Texas, the Lone Star and the United States flag in the center, and on each side the flag of the Confederacy, six and a half feet by five, made, too, for an emblem representing the Indian tribes that possessed this land before the Spanish adventurers found their way here.

The exquisite grandeur of design and the architecture of the structure will impress itself on the mind, whether viewed from without or within. The great lobby will focus the extent and magnitude of the monument like a beautiful and magnificent image that takes possession of the thoughts to the exclusion of the monument and all else.

Everything about the structure will be on grand proportions, and the lobby will be one of the most impressive sights of the monument. Visitors are to have free access to it at all times. Its inside measurements will be 82 1/2 feet square, which will also be the inside measurements of the auditoriums, and who do the big auditorium there will be three other halls for meetings of various associations. Balconies near the top, which give the structure beauty when seen from a distance, will permit visitors to gaze upon five counties.

WERE ALL ONE TO HIM

HORACE GREELEY NOT PARTICULAR AS TO FOODS HE EATS.

Amusing Stories Told by the Late Whitelaw Reid Concerning the Eccentricities of His Famous Chief at Table.

Several of the anecdotes that our late ambassador to England, Whitelaw Reid, used to relate to Horace Greeley, his old chief on the Tribune, have recently been going the rounds of the press. Most of them refer to his peculiarities in the office; a few to those he displayed in company, especially at table, where his absent-mindedness and his queer theories combined to produce unexpected results.

Once, when he was to take supper with a daughter of Nathaniel Willis, she arranged the meal especially to suit his ideas. It was simple, and there were plenty of the graham things that he advocated ardently. But lest her own family should rebel, there were also hot rolls upon the table. Mr. Greeley's eye fastened upon them at once, and ignoring the graham gems conveniently at hand, he reached for a hot roll—and then for another. As he began on a third, his hostess remarked that she was delighted to see that he liked her rolls, but that she had thought he did not eat such things. "Fanny, do you always practice what you preach?" was the unperturbed rejoinder; and he made his entire meal of the delicious, indigestible rolls that his own decree had banished from the Greeley home—leaving a scant few for his table companions, who had to eke out their supper with the undigested gems.

But if he was funny when he knew what he ate, he was funnier when he did not—as in the famous episode of the crullers, which occurred at the table of his boarding house. When the crullers were passed to him, instead of taking a single cruller, he accepted the entire basket and absently placed it in his lap as he continued his discourse. Presently, vaguely aware of something there, his hand wandered downward and encountered a cruller. This he mechanically grasped and raised to his mouth. Quite unaware of what he was doing, he ate and talked, and talked and ate; cruller after cruller disappeared until the basket was empty. His companions were convulsed with suppressed merriment; one or two had to leave the table, he have their laugh out in the hall.

But the kindly landlady, distressed on account of possible results, remembered having heard that the best antidote to indigestion was cheese. Quietly removing the empty cake basket from Mr. Greeley's lap, she put in its place a plate of cheese, trusting to Providence that his habituated hand would continue its action. It did. His hand flowed on, but his fingers found the cheese, and it, too, disappeared to the last crumb.

"Those who saw the sight," it is declared, "were firm in the belief that Mr. Greeley did not know he had eaten anything that evening."—Youth's Companion.

Howers of Wood
The origins of the Futurist and Cubist schools of sculpture have not been inquired into closely enough. None has thought yet to connect these artistic experiments with those sturdy hewers who evolved the archaic, the wooden cigarstore Indian, or, by way of variation, Turk. Move the calendar on six hundred years; would any expert authority, consulting upon the carved head of Mille, Pogany and one of the hewn Indian tribe in the ruins of New York, deny that they had come from the same hand?

Pure inspiration suggest the connection. Let another follow the clue. This is simply to note one cigar store Indian on a lowery, the work of an original genius. The figure of the Indian is of the familiar school, and the coloring without distinction. But in the Indian's hands the workman placed cleverly a real old flintlock musket. The ancient weapon, after the vicissitudes of bowery life, is still in excellent condition.—Harper's Weekly.

Backers of Brook Farm
The men who organized "Brook Farm" and made a community of it, in 1841, were Charles A. Dana, George Ripley, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Theodore Parker, Nathaniel Hawthorne, George William Curtis and Dr. Ellery Channing. Margaret Fuller was also interested in the experiment.

It turned out to be a failure, because enough was not earned to support it. It was located at West Roxbury, Mass. This community was organized "to substitute a system of brotherly cooperation for one of selfish competition." Each member of the community had to work a certain number of hours each day for the common good. The property was equally divided, and the products of the land were sold.

Septicemia, Not Tuberculosis
Tuberculosis germs, like all other germs, are not infectious until their habitat becomes putrid from oxygen starvation, and the disease they then can transmit is the one known to the profession as septic infection or septicemia, and not tuberculosis.

Cattle nor man can be on foot when septicemic fever is once developed, and cattle must be in this state before their meat can be said to be infectious, and then the infection is of a tubercular character, but strictly of a putrescent character.—Stuffed Club.

Beauty of Spider's Web
There are few more beautiful objects than a spider's web covered with dew. In symmetry, in perfection of geometrical arrangement and in the prismatic reflection of color it is a gorgeous object. And consider the wonderful devices that our garden spider has for attending to its toilet. Was ever comb in woman's boudoir more perfect than the spider has at the end of the claws to aid in manipulating the cobweb threads, in clinging to a rough object, and as aids in walking over the web?

"BLOOD IS THICKER THAN WATER"

Without good red blood a man has a weak heart and poor nerves. Thinness of the blood, or anemia, is common in young folks as well as old. Especially is it the case with those who work in ill-ventilated factories—or those who are shut up indoors in winter time with a coal stove burning up the oxygen or emitting carbonic (oxide) gas. This blood, or blood which lacks the red blood corpuscles, in anemic people may have been caused by lack of good fresh air breathed into lungs, or by poor digestion or dyspepsia. Sometimes people suffer intense pain over the heart which is not heart disease at all, but caused by indigestion. Whatever the cause, there's just one remedy that you can turn to—knowing that it has given satisfaction for over 40 years.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

Is a blood cleanser and alterative that starts the liver and stomach into vigorous action. It thus assists the body to manufacture rich red blood which feeds the heart—nerves—brain and organs of the body. The organs work smoothly like machinery running in oil. You feel clean, strong and strenuous instead of ill, weak and faint. Nowadays you can obtain Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, in anemic people may have been caused by lack of good fresh air breathed into lungs, or by poor digestion or dyspepsia. Sometimes people suffer intense pain over the heart which is not heart disease at all, but caused by indigestion. Whatever the cause, there's just one remedy that you can turn to—knowing that it has given satisfaction for over 40 years.

TOO MUCH FOR CONDUCTOR
Boastful Train Man Confident He Would Collect Fare From Daniel Webster, but It Was Not to Be.

Some years ago Stanley Johnson printed a collection of new and interesting anecdotes of Daniel Webster. Mr. Johnson's father knew Webster personally and his stories are taken as authoritative. Among them is the following:

"The first of these anecdotes that I can recall was about the conductor who tried unsuccessfully to collect a fare from Webster. Mr. Webster was making a journey and, as usual, was not provided with a ticket. The important things of life engrossed his attention completely and rendered him careless in money matters. When he collected a fare he often laid it between the leaves of his law books, and there a great deal of it was found after his death. Mr. Webster was talking earnestly with some friends when the time for collecting fares came. His remissness in the matter was generally known, for, before the conductor began his trip, he had been told in the baggage car that he would have to skip Mr. Webster; he had first scoffed at the idea and then had laid a bet that he would get his fare or put him off."

"Some conductors may let him off," he declared boastfully, "but he's no more to me than any other man." Whereupon he sauntered down the aisle calling "Fares!" with probably more than ordinary peremptoriness. Mr. Webster continued talking while the others gave up their tickets. The conductor hesitated a respectful moment and then said "Excuse me," again. Mr. Webster continued to talk.

The conductor then touched him on the arm and said, "Your ticket, sir." Then Mr. Webster turned his famous eyes upon the man. "Do you know the president of this railroad?" he asked. "No, sir," replied the conductor. "Well, I do," continued Mr. Webster. "He's a friend of mine and I will settle with him."

Mr. Webster's eyes rested on the man and he turned away—beaten. It was easy money for the man in the baggage car. But with whatever finality Mr. Webster may have spoken, it was always felt sure that it was because of his eyes that he triumphed on this occasion; for my father has always said that they were the most wonderfully magnetic luminaries ever given to help a man through this sort of ticket-collecting work.

COMPLICATION OF WOMAN'S ILLS

Yields to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Athens, Texas.—"I had a complication of diseases, some of them I wrote to you for advice and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now as Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I must confess that I am much better in every way and have been relieved of some of the worst troubles. My neighbors say I look younger now than I did fifteen years ago."—Mrs. SARAH R. WHITLEY, Athens, Texas, R. F. D. No. 3, Box 92.

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or received so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In nearly every community you will find women who have been restored to health by this famous medicine. Almost every woman you meet knows of the great good it has been doing among suffering women for the past 30 years.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, many of them state that it has saved them from surgical operations.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Oldtime Perfumes.

Perfumes were in common use in the ancient world, but views have changed as to the pleasantness of various odors. The smell of aloes is now considered disagreeable by the majority of people, but in the old days aloes, both as solid extract and as wood, formed a staple perfume or aromatic. Saffron, moreover, was a most popular perfume with the Romans, and was much in favor in England until about the sixteenth century.

Gleans Blood Through Kidneys

A Most Important Function and One to be Carefully Guarded.

The purpose of the kidneys being to filter the blood the question of treating supposed kidney weakness should be considered carefully. Instead of drugs and alleged kidney stimulants the better plan is to purify the blood with an antidotal effect such as you get from S. S. S.

It should be remembered that the kidneys are made up of a fine network of blood vessels, and it is to stimulate the functional activity of kidney tissue through this capillary net work that S. S. S. shows one of its most remarkable effects.

The medicinal value of the components of S. S. S. are relatively just as vital to healthy kidney action as the nutrient obtained from grain, meat, fats, sugars, or any other part of our daily food is to the biological and economical requirements of the tissues. And there is one component of S. S. S. which serves the active purpose of stimulating the cellular activity of the kidneys to a healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutrient.

Thus, in cases of rheumatism, cystitis, chronic sore throat, business of voice, bronchitis, asthma, and the myriad of other reflex indications of weak kidney action, first purify your blood with S. S. S. so it will enable the tissues to rebuild their cellular strength and regain their normal health.

You can get S. S. S. at any drug store, but take no other so-called blood purifier. S. S. S. is purely a botanical product, and you will make a great mistake to have some enthusiastic palm oil or mercury, arsenic or iodine or potash preparation that may do you irreparable harm.

S. S. S. is prepared by The Swift Specific Co., 140 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and if you have any deep-seated or obstinate blood trouble write to their Medical Department for free advice. It will be worth your while to do so.

MAKE EASY JOB OF MOVING

Much Depends on Proper Preparation Made Before the Actual Day of Departure.

When you have weeded out your collection of clothes, bric-a-brac and all your odds and ends, pack what you have decided to keep and get the other things out of the way as quickly as possible.

To pack pictures, large boxes and plenty of excellent paper are necessary. These may be packed early in the game, as they are not necessary to the running of the household. Barrels are best in packing dishes and china or plaster bric-a-brac.

It will be found much easier to unpack if a list is made of the articles in each of your boxes and barrels. These can be numbered in black paint on the inside made accordingly. When you start to unpack you have only to consult your lists to see what each box holds. For instance, if a box with the big black figure 6 stares you in the face you can look up list number 6 and find that the parlor pictures and the lace curtains are in that box. This will simplify matters greatly, as the boxes can be unpacked as their contents are needed.

Oldest Vehicle in America
There is what is claimed to be the oldest ancient wheeled vehicle in America. It was last used some years ago by a Pueblo Indian of the village of Tesuque, N. M. The tradition was that this "carreta" or oxcart had been handed down from father to son in the same family for four generations to carry its origin back into the seventeenth century. This car, however, shows evidences of having been repaired time and again and it may be that the only part of the original cart that is left is the holes in the wheels where the axle goes through.

The wheels are hewn bodily out of huge pieces of sycamore and are 33 inches in diameter, six inches thick at the rim and two feet between the holes. The great antiquity of the vehicle is proved by the fact that there is not a nail nor a piece of metal of any kind used in it. It is built entirely of wood and is fastened together either with wooden pins or thongs of rawhide. It is an interesting fact that this cart is made exactly like the ox carts that have been in use in southern Europe from the earliest historic times. One sees, for example, just such carts to this day in Thessaly and parts of Turkey.—From the Pathfinder.
